

Seniors share MPHS memories with graduate

Smith Village, a retirement community in Morgan Park, hosted a workshop on July 18 in which residents who attended Morgan Park High School (MPHS) and other area high schools met with a recent MPHS graduate to share stories about their high school experiences. The meeting was arranged by BuildOn Project Coordinator
